"If the South perish, let none think that the North can live. If one die, both will die. They are bound together by a ligament stronger, more vital and more immovable than that of the twins of Siam. Let one become a dead body, and the ligament, decaying and putrifying, day by day, back, back, back into the bowels and to the heart of the still living form, will soon finish the work of rottenness and death."
